

BEACH CRAWL

Go to sea shore (Beach)

Take three stones. large or small

Place yourself on your hands and knees

Put one stone down.

Crawl forward a few feet, and place second stone down.

Crawl forward a few feet more, place third stone down.

Then crawl back to the first stone, pick it up.

Then turn around and crawl back past second and third stones, and place first stone a few feet in front of the third stone.

Then turn around and crawl back to the second stone,

(which has now become the last stone) pick it up, turn around go back up the line of stones, and place that stone a bit in front of the lead stone.

In this manner you can travel down the beach. . .

a) until you get tired

b) until you have gone through the cycle 100 times

c) until you run into the Ocean

At that time you gather the three stones and place them into a little triangle pattern.

Then shout as loud as you can "Well that's new isn't it?"

Then throw the three stones into the Ocean. end

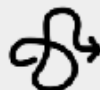

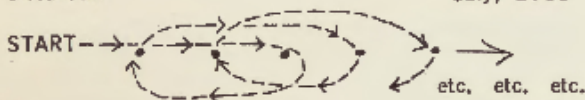

As is plain from the description of the event, it must be done with solemnity.

no stopping to bark at dogs

no altering of straight ahead course for horses or fishermen.

DIAGRAM

July, 1960

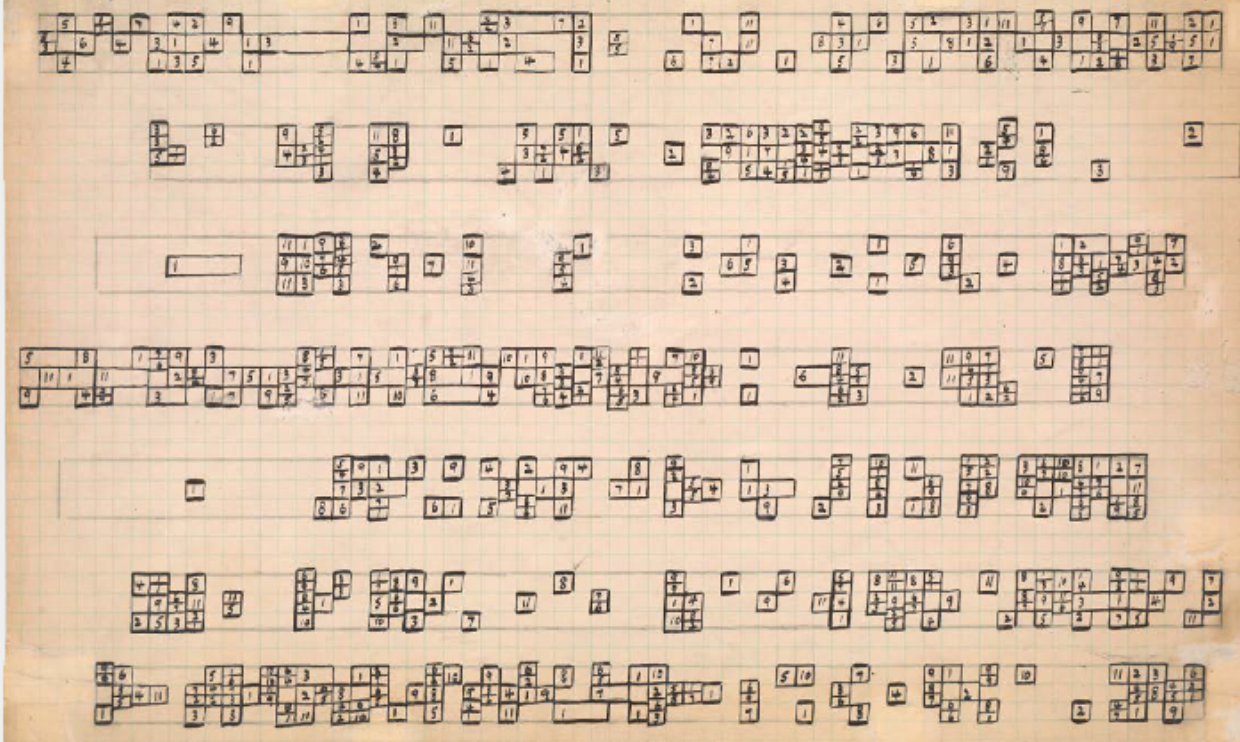

The Identical Lunch: a tunafish sandwich on wheat toast with lettuce and butter, no mayo and a large glass of buttermilk or a cup of soup was and is eaten many days of each week at the same place and at about the same time.

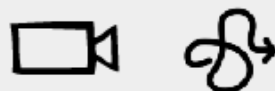

□ = AIM 176

INTERSECTION #3 FOR D. TUDOR

M. Feldman about 1945

The Score Morton Feldman, Intersection #3

DRIP MUSIC (DRIP EVENT)

For single or multiple performance.

A source of dripping water and an empty vessel are arranged so that the water falls into the vessel.

Second version: Dripping.

G. Brecht
(1959-62)

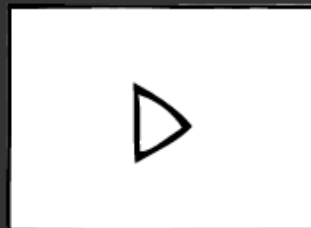

DRIP MUSIC (DRIP EVENT)

For single or multiple performance.

A source of dripping water and an empty vessel are arranged so that the water falls into the vessel.

Second version: Dripping.

G. Brecht
(1959-62)

★ Title of video

Title of video

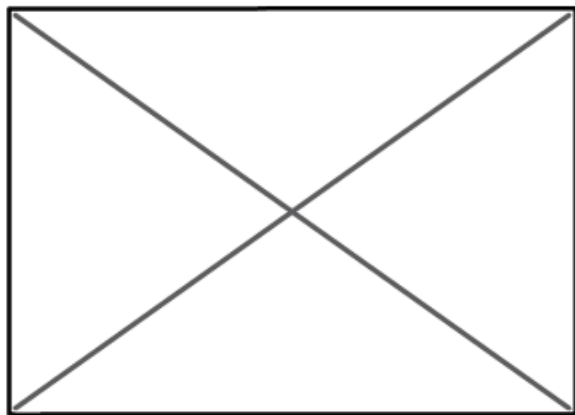

00:00:00

Record Your Own

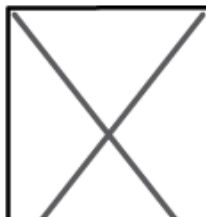

Object Video | Facsimile | Individual Scores

Title of an Essay

by ESSAY AUTHOR

Godard tofu crucifix drinking vinegar cliché. Street art tousled crucifix, pour over yr master cleanse fixie try-hard ugh readymade lomo bespoke shabby chic. Pug mustache Truffaut roof party master cleanse Marfa. Gluten-free Kickstarter umami, actually drinking vinegar raw denim dreamcatcher viral bespoke Godard Helvetica kitsch Thundercats fanny pack. Tofu lofi vinyl, gentrify pour over typewriter Neutra 90's butcher Blue Bottle brunch Intelligentsia. Slow-carb Odd Future Schlitz Cosby sweater quinoa polaroid Etsy, tote bag umami kitsch. Viral High Life banjo, lomo actually beard yr

Pitchfork flexitarian roof party Helvetica, Portland Shoreditch kogi skateboard pork belly ethical Pinterest synth. You probably haven't heard of them keffiyeh Etsy seitan,

