

First-time browsing the score

But how cool, to have to download an app for class.

Books are on my mind!

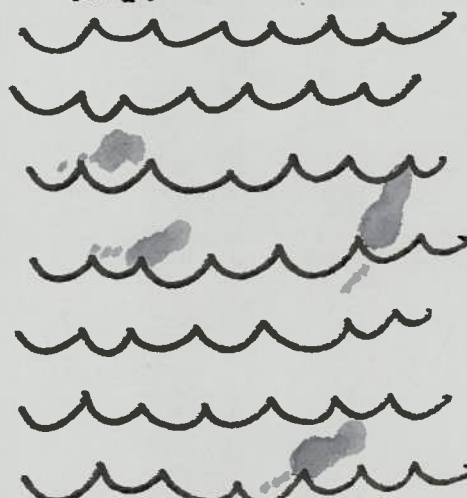

Upon opening app...

Where does it begin and end? What's the home screen?

Judgemental

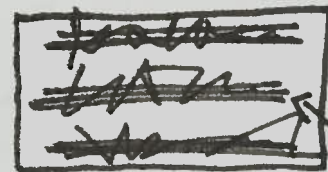

Looking at scholarly texts and hundreds of media...

I'm not sure these look familiar to me.

Overwhelmed + Excited + Inspired

Picks wackiest-looking score...

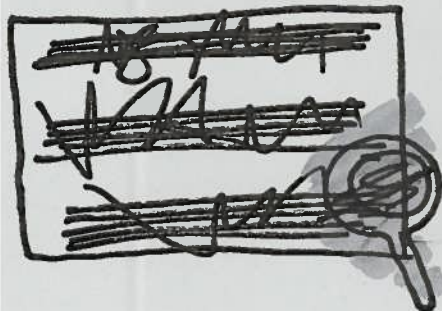

(thumbnail)

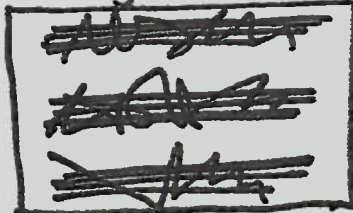

and diving in!

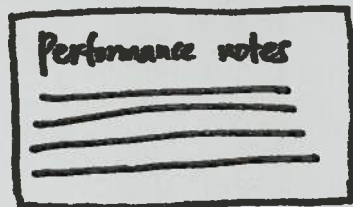

Zooming in and out

Comparing performance notes w/

Score and audio

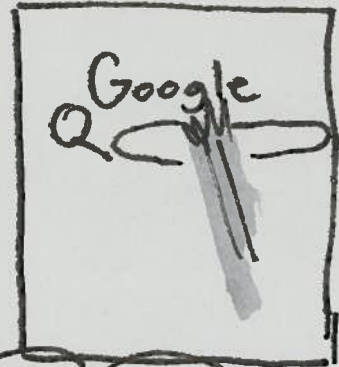

Wow, I'm glad the app suggested I listen w/ my

Wondering

I feel like there's so much stuff! What am I reading about now? Where am I? How long will it take me

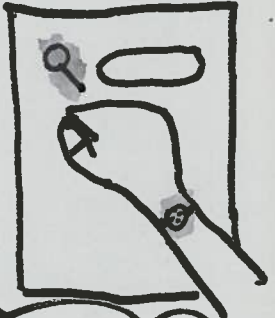

Inquisitive

Let me take a break and Google some artists, then look at Wikipedia links.

Activating "object-storytelling, listening, experiencing multiple realizations, engaging with The Score"

I'm at a coffee shop w/o my laptop, but I'd really like some homework done, even just one chapter of reading.

I'm in a hurry. I need to read about the "Water Yam" in an hour so I'm heading straight to the search box to find it.

On a mission

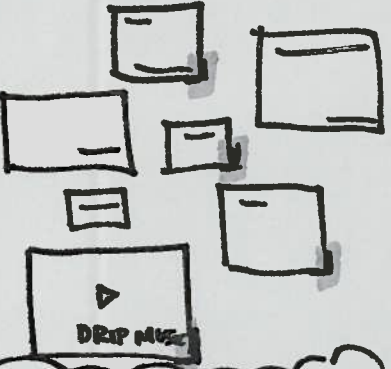

Interesting - a closed box... How do I open it/activate it/see what's inside???

Amazed

I see a 3D image of a box filled w/ cards of different sizes. How can I quickly see how many are inside... I'm picturing taking out each card from the box and arranging them somehow.

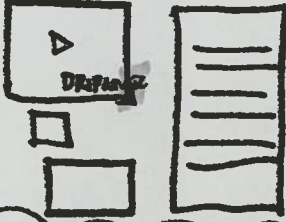

Pretty cool how I can shuffle the cards at random and see their back sides by clicking on the card.

Edge of a

When I hover over some cards, I can also see a play button, so I can watch a performance of the instructions given in the card.

I compiled some of the interesting cards and texts. I'm hoping to save them for later and post about them in the class discussion board before class.

Bookmarking

Oh wait, I gotta go! Time for dinner!

Distracted

Experiencing realization of

Studying objects: analyzing what scores mean, writing a paper or reviewing for an exam, consulting glossary and other resources both within and outside The Score app

I'm writing a paper
so I'm switching my use of The Score
to my laptop

Focused

I'm all eyes on my computer and I'm looking at the John Cage station hoping to come up with a solid analysis.

See John Cage, "Indeterminacy"
lecture, September 1958

This word comes up a lot.
It seems pretty loaded.
I'd like to see some sort of encyclopedic
entry for it.

Observant

Indeterminacy
noun

unique, cannot be repeated

It would really help me to be able to
"star" this, and
mark it so I remember
it's important for my paper.

Starred items:

Notes:

- ☆ glossary entry
- ☆ glossary entry
- ☆ object essay
- ☆ bibliography
- ☆ object essay
- ☆ glossary entry
- ☆ object video

Highlights:

So many things
to keep in mind!

in Checklist made

Wikipedia

Google

Indeterminacy

Gee, I've gathered
So many tabs looking up so many artists
and objects.

Skill Curious

I also have other related books in my library
Cartel... stuff I've learned in other classes.
How should I synthesize
all of this info?

Engaged and excited

Media Studies 103
John Cage paper

"_____": pg. 206,
Alan Kaprow: book
"_____": "The Score up, chapter 6.

keep I'll working from this Microsoft Word document of bullet points and direct citations.